REEDLEY, Calif. (KSEE/KGPE) – A new affordable apartment complex for farmworkers and families facing housing insecurity is coming to Reedley.

Officials with Self-Help Enterprises announced the grand opening celebration of Guardian Village, a 48-unit affordable housing development in Reedley. The complex is located at 601 E. 11th St., in Reedley, and 30% of its units will be reserved for farmworkers and families earning between 15% and 60% of the area's median income.

Self-Help Enterprises says the complex features a mix of one-, two- and three-bedroom apartments across five residential buildings. Additionally, a Health Action Plan was developed for the community to identify health concerns in the area and target outcomes for improvement.

The grand opening celebration will be held on Thursday from 10:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. at the Guardian Village complex.
